Business Experience

Jim Plyler, a Charlotte native, has over 26 years experience in the commercial real estate field in and around the Charlotte Metropolitan area. Prior to the start of his real estate career Jim worked for a large national bank and a major motor carrier. His real estate career began with Southern Real Estate as a commercial broker. He then worked for CB Richard Ellis where he was a First Vice President. Jim joined AAC Real Estate and worked on the development side for over five years. During that time Jim was responsible for the development and leasing of close to 1,000,000 square feet of industrial, office and flex space at their Whitehall Development and Shopton Ridge Business Park.

Jim served for six years on the Charlotte Mecklenburg Planning Commission, and reviewed thousand of zoning cases, he also served on MUMPO (Mecklenburg County, Union County Metropolitan Planning Organization), the organization that plans and sets priorities for future road projects in the metropolitan area.
